

We Are The Alchemists:
An Evening Of Science Like No Other

We Are

The

WETA is proof that there's more to be proud of than our world-leading ceramics heritage. Scientists from Stoke-on-Trent to San Diego are coming to talk forensics, DNA, global warming, space exploration, CGI and sci-fi. We'll be understanding how Darwin's theory of evolution can explain hospital deaths and critiquing genetic material as an evidentiary tool in law.

There will be answers to questions you didn't even know existed, like why do we swear? Oh yes, NASA have been invited and there's free beer. Interested?
